If a case has not settled or been dismissed following a motion for summary judgment, it is going to trial. You have to make pre-trial disclosures to the other party before trial, including expert witnesses and reports and witness and exhibit lists. Read Rule 26(a)(2) & (a)(3) for more detailed information. The following information is not meant to be all inclusive, and you should always consult the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Rules to make sure you understand what the Court requires of the parties preparing for trial. You should also become familiar with the Federal Rules of Evidence, which govern the admission of evidence at trial.
