

ITEM 5.5.1 | CASE SEARCH AND DISPLAY

The system must be able to retrieve and display basic case information from the clerk of court's database and from any internal database it maintains. Basic case information includes at a minimum: case style (parties names, case number, and division of court); type of case; date opened; current status; identities, roles, and contact information of parties and attorneys.

