

SECTION VIII | INSTITUTIONAL ACCESS

Institutional Access applies to roles of the Florida Office of Public Defender and the Office of Criminal Conflict and Civil Regional Counsel in cases where they are appointed or are the presumptive attorney of record. The term "institution" as used within these standards means a statutorily-created organization or agency responsible for providing legal representation to an individual or group of individuals. This designation allows institutional users - including paralegals, legal assistants, and other staff - to view assigned cases as if they were the "attorney of record." Once an institution ceases representation in a case, access is severed and the institution's users default to the General Government user role.
